Aftert Stoop is nineteen years of age, and was born and reared in the village of Octoyl, near the city of Zurich, Switzerland. His parents were in confortable circumstances, and young Stoop received a more than ordinarily good education, and was particularly proficient in mathematics. Before Albert had completed his education, his parents died, and finding himself a burdon to his relatives, he determined to come to the United States, and on the 20th day of last May he reached this city in company with a number of his countrymen. It was the determination of the company to go to Oskosh, in Wisconsin, and purchase farms.

was the determination of the company to go to Oskosh, in Wisconsin, and purchase farms.

Stoop had a through railroad ticket to Oskosh, but when he reached this city, he found his money was gone, and he went to a Swiss boarding house on the former of Chark and Taylor streets, known as the "Breensen Hoff." It was at this house that Mr. Garing made Stoop's acquaintance. Stoop said he was out of money, and Gering purchased two ed Gering's aid in procuring employment, and

Oa or about the first of September, Stoop left Hagerman's employ ment from two men, brothors, named Bader, who were farming together near Blue Island, and who came over from Switzerhaid in company with Stoop. He agreed to work for his board, and was employed in handling wood to the station of the Chicago and Rock Island Railread at Blue Island. Stoop gave as a reason for leaving Hagerman's, that the business of a har tender was seeking tasteful he could not stand it any longer. During his stay with the Baders, he gained their confidence Officer Williams then neturned to this city/leav-ing Dering to watch, for Stoop's return and secure the arrest. Walle Williams was absent the murder his arrest. While Williams was absent the murder was committed, and Capt. Bridley immediately telegraphed to Milwaukee a description of the murderer, and Dering was satisfied from that description that Stoop was the murderer. Dering was in consultation with Capt. Beck of Milwaukee, and a close watch was set on the trains, and the person of whom Stoop had purchased the saloon had pro-mised to give the police notice when he returned. On Monday, about 11 o'clock in the forenoon, word was sent to officer Acessier, who came down and commenced a conversation with Stoop upon some unimportant topics. After conversing in this way some ten minutes, officer Kessier and to him. "What did you kill that man for?" Stoop imme-diately asked "How do you know about it?" Kess-ler then accused Stoop of the nurder, and the lat-ter confessed the orime, and immediately handed

At this time Stoop was driving the team, and Lauermann was sitting with his legs daugling over the end-board of the wagon box, and kicking his feet against the box to warm them. After the murder was committed he dragged the body some distance from the road, left it and then drove the team to Milwankee. He said that he had never seen Lauermann before.

Allerton, Bradford, and other old Governors of the New England S ares, were conspicuous around the gallery. The supper, the least important fea-ture, was abundant, and characterized by a great variety of peculiarly New England dishes, as well as many that are common to "the rest of man-kind." After all were satisfied with eating and Reported Death of Gen. Lane.

Reported Death of Gen. Lane.

Sr. Lous, Dec. 22.—Dispatches from Boonville this morning, say that Maj. Russell, Capt. Var Vliet and Geo. W. Sanders, passed down the river last evening, on route for Washington. They left Leavenworth on the 19th.

Stanton was still acting as Governor, apparently with the approbation of Gen. Deaver.

Gen. Harney had dispatched two companies of cavalry upon Stanton's requisition to suppress a rebellion at Fort Scott, where several lives had been sacrificed. Harney had also posted troops at Doulphan, Atchison, Kickapoo, Leavenworth, Lawrence and Lecompton. It is thought the legitimate vote will be very small, but here are many Missourians going into the territory to vote, which taken in connection with Stanton's removal may cause bloodshed at the polls.

An arrival from the plains reports that two companies of the 5th infantry had met with reverses, and that their depot at Fort Larandle is threatened by the Mormons.

A letter dated Leavenworth, 17th, says that Gen. Lane was shot at Lecompton by a government official, name not given, on the evening of the 17th. The affair grew out of a political discussion. Much exchement prevailed.

Itical discussion. Much excitement prevailed.

Important from Washington.

Washington, Dec. 21.—Southern gentlemen have an important movement on foot which promises an casy settlement of the Kansas question. It is intended when the Lecompton Constitution comes on to take it up by the friends of the Administration as a party measure and as a formal assertion of the Democratic principle of popular sovereignty. The Constitution will be passed with a previse that it shall be presented to the people of Kansas for final acceptance and ratification, and an Enabling Act will be incorporated in the new bill as an alternative in case the Lecompton Constitution is rejected by the people of Kansas.

Judge Hall, of lowa, who was in the last Congress, has been appointed Chief Justice of the Territary of Nebracka.

Jas. M. Buchanar, of Baltimore, will be appointed minister to St. Petersburgh.

Sr. PAUL, Dec. 16.—A cancus of the Demo-cratic members of the Legislature met fast night at the Fuller House, for the purpose of nominating United States Senators. On the first ballot, Hon. H. H. Rice received 55 votes, and was declared unanimously nominated. On the fourth ballot Gen. Shields received 33

On motion of Mr. Seward a resolution was adopted directing the Joint Committee on Printing to enquire and report whether any new provisions of law are necessary to secure the faithful performance of existing contracts, which provine for accurate reports of the debates in the two Houses.

The Senate resumed the consideration of the President's Annual Message.

Mr. Frieds said if the election took place in Kansas yesterday, Congressional action on the subject would soon be required, that is, assuming there were no fraud which would violate the election. He desired that the decision of the people of the Territory, whether to admit or exclude slavery, should not be supposed to inflaence his opinion, therefore he wished to speak on the subject in advance of any possible knowledge here of the proceedings of the election. He would remark in advance, while he should feel bound to comment on some of the views expressed by Mr. Douglas, he did not desire to read him out of the Democratic party, but would say that a man might by his own desire to read him out of the Democratic party, but would say that a man might by his own voluntary act, either by promoting discord in the party, or by some other means place himself beyond the pale of the party organization. He hardly thought that the old Democratic party at such were put to the necessity of reading persons out of their organization. If, how-dyer, there were any men in the Democratic party who wished to take a position outside of the party, or who intended to promote discord in the party in return for some fancied griev-ance in time past, they would do well to re-member the fate of every such attempt that had been made from the days of Burr to those of Van Buren. HOUSE.

The House went into committee of the whole on the Senate treasury node bill.

Mr. Grow opposed the sending forth of an Irredeemable paper currency; there being nothing in the treasury to redeem the issue, it would but add to the evils which now prevail. He favored a loan which would bring forth the twenty millions of coin in secret recesses unemployed and waiting for a safe investment.

Mr. Smith, of Virgidia, argued to show that these motes were not of the nature of bank notes—the bill in effect proposed a loan. In reply to Mr. Grow he said that the position of that gentleman was an apt illustration of the old adage that "an apostate Christian is worse than

Mr. Adrian supported the bill, and replied to the objections made against it.

Mr. Morris, of Pa., regarded this measure as an attempt to return to the policy with which the Government commenced, viz. t. secure a national currency; he was in favor of a national currency; he was in favor of a national bank, with certain restrictions; such as General Jackson said might be established, and was, therefore, glad that the President had adopted one of the principles of the old Whig piatform.

Mr. J. Glancey Jones having replied to the various objections urged against the bill, showed the necessity of its passage in consequence of commercial revolutions.

The various amendments were then discussed.

The various amendments were an amount cussed.

Mr. Banks' proposition to raise an amount not exceeding twenty millions of dollars, by the issue of stock redeemable in one year, was rejected by a vote of 78 against 103. The Committee then rose.

stock market of that day :

A few days ago one of those liberal" gentlemen made a visit to this city, and offered to lend a prominent banker $50,000 of the issue of his "cat," without interest, and give him half the depreciation, besides. Another was in Chicago last week, and tried hard to coax a responsible banker to take $20,000 of the "cat" he peddled on similar conditions. The banker demurred. "Why, sir," said the shark, " you can pass it off at per, and afterwards redeem it at less than fifty cents on th dollar. You may have half that is made by the. ting the bills into circulation of United States Senator within eight days af- tering offer was respectfully declined. No Ne braska money is redeemed in Chicago. The highest price paid for it by brokers is 25 cents on the dollar. It is meeting with similar treatment elsewhere.

The Oquawka Spectator of the 18th inst. says: "Nemaha Valley Bank is no longer regarded as currency here, all our dealers refuse it." The Peorla Transcript says: "The attempt to circulate Platte Valley (Nebraska) wild cat notes in this city has most signally failed. It had a little credit for awhile with some hou but it has been thrown out by every banking house in this city." The business citizens of Princeton have given notice through the papers of that town that they will not receive hereafter, in any business transaction the notes of the Western Exchange Bank of Nebraska, or of any other Nebraska Bank nor those of the Cumberland Saving

Bank of Maryland. We pereive in the Islander & Argus that the ss men of Rock Island are bearding Ne brasks currency, and have taken a long step loward compelling their brokers, upon wh responsibility it has been let loose upon the community, to redeem it in Illinois currency, or driving it from the market. Let people whereever the stuff is in circulation, call upon the "accommodating genthemen" who are circulating it, and demand of them to redeem it in Illinois currency. If they refuse to do this, it is prima facie evidence of a design to swindle the holder of it.

Treasury Notes.

Secretary Com is crowding through Congress his bill for issuing twenty millions of Unde Sam's treasury. But this issue of notes will not be the last required. Before six months Secretary Cosn will need twenty milions more, and in six months thereafter another mports of the next fiscal year will reach $370,-900,000, and that the Government will derive therefrom seventy millions of revenue; But estimates are void of the truth. It is doubtful whether the imports will exceed two hundred millions, or the imposts forty millions. We confidently predict that the National revenue from all sources will fall short of fortyfive millions, while the expenditures can no be got under sevenly-five millions. This is a year of economy and retrenchment by the people. Nothing will be imported that can well right note when he said that the Government bught to increase its revenue by taxation in some form, and not undertake to meet its our-Mr. Cosn will be obliged to take one of three courses, viz: double the tarif; levy direct taxes upon the people, or create a National debt orders per annum. He has chosen the latter ex pedient; but unless he adopts one of the other plans, he will find it to be a permanent measure at least a permanent delt. At the second board the market maintained its strength, with a fair degree of activity and a further marked improvement in quotationa. Eric, Reading, Toledo, New York Central, and Michigan Southern, each advanced from $\frac{1}{2}$ to $1$ per cent. over morning prices. Rock Island and Galena each advanced decidedly, and were in demand. The market has doubtjess been a great deal strengthened by purchasers on short account; some of these operators fearing the receipt of favorable foreign news by the steamers now due, and deeming it prudent to close up contracts before their arrival. The confident expectations of the managers of the Illinois Central, Eric, and Michigan Southern roads, in

Dr. Tulton has removed to No. 14! State is discussed to the winter, with his father-discussed in the state of a word, with fatal results to its legitimate meaning, which is its life—are alike forbidden. Manuslaughter, which is the meaning of the one, is the same us man's laughter, which is the earn of the other. A pun is primar facile an insult to the person you are talking with. It implies utter indifference for or sublime contempt for his remarks, no matter how serious. I speak of total deporalings. Consultation graties. or the Union.

you are talking with. It implies utter indifference to or sublime contempt for his remarks, no matter how serious. I speak of total depravity, and one says all that is written on the subject is deep raving. I have committed my self-respect by talking with such a person. Or I speak of geological convulsions, and he asks me what was the cosine of Noah's ark; also, whether the Delagewas not a great deal huger than any modern inusdation.

A pan does not commonly justify a blow in return. But if a blow were given for such cause, and death ensued, the jury would be judges both of the facts and the pun, and might, if the latter were of an aggravated character, return a verdict of justifiable homicide. Thus, in a case intely decided before Miller, J., Doe presented fice a subscription paper, and urged the claims of suffering humanity. Roe replied by asking, when charity was like a top? It was in evidence that Doe preserved a dignified silence. Roe then said, "When it begins at hum." Doe then—and not till then—struck Roe, and his head happening to strike a bound volume of the Monthly Rag Bag and Stolen Miscellany, intense mortification ensued, with a fatal result. The chief isid down his notions of the law to his brother justices, who unanimously replied "Jest so." The chief rejoined that no man should jest so without being punished for it, and charged for the prisoner, who was acquitted, and the pun ordered to be burned by the sheriff. The bound volume was forfeited as a decidand, but not claimed.

Reople who make puns are like wanton boys that put coppers on the railroad tracks. They amuse themselves and other children, but the fittle trick may upset a freight train of conversation, for the sake of a battered wittleism.

And, once more, listen to the historian: "The Puritans hated puns. The Bishop were notoriously addicted to them. The Lords Temporal carried them to the verge of license.—Majesty itself must have its Royal quibble. 'Ye be burley, my Lord of Burleigh,' said Queen Elizabeth, but ye shall make less sir in him water for wasting a casque full upon a dying man.

A courtier who saw Othello performed at the Globs Theatre, remarked that the blackumoor was a brute, and not a man. "Then hast reason," replied a great Lord, "according to Plato, his saying, for this be a two legged mimal with feathers." The fatal habit became utiversal. The language was corrupted. The inflection spread to the national conscience. Political double-meanings. The teeth of the new dragon were sown by Cadmus, who introduced the alphabet of equivocation. What was levity in the time of the Tudors, grew to regicide and revolution in in the age of the Stnarts.

Who was that boarder who just whispered something about the Macaulay flowers of literature? There was a dead silence—I said calmity, I shall henceforth consider any interruption by a pun as a hint to change my boarding bouse. Do not plead my example. If I have used any such, it has been only as a Spartan father we uld show up a drunken helot.

Foreign Gossip. A NEW YORK LADY IN PARIS. The Paris Courrier of November 10 has the following intelligence, which will show New coming arrival of a rich American and his daughter, the beautiful Ceoilia H—on. Mrs. Ceditia R—on is a splendid beauty; she is twenty-eight years of age, and a widow. Her husband, one of the richest inhabitants of New York, was killed three years ago by a railway accident. Being rich on her father's side, as also by the inheritance of her husband, Mrs. Cecilia is perhaps the best match in the United States. But she hates the Americane, and teased by their courships, and weary of dragging always behind her a retinue of Yankees, she come to live in Paris. She will open her house this winter, and give splendid entertainments. open her house this winter, and give spiguant entertainments.

"Mrs. Coellin is sumptuously fashionable.—
She spends at her toilet a budget exceeding that of the largest city of France, Paris excepted. Her expenses are computed by millions. She has already been three times in Paris, but only stopped here a few weeks to make purchases which she did not want to intrust to constitute. She heart the expenses were supported to the constitute of chases which she did not want to intrust to anybody. She bought each time so many things, so many hats, so many dresses, so many shaw is, so many laces, so many gloves, so many shoes, that people could not believe that all these goods were for her own use, in the Parisian stores, where she is well known. She has always been thought to be the owner of a large maison de nouvenutes of New York.

"New York is the city of the world where the ladies go to the greatest expense for their lesser, that luxury has attained the extreme of its expansion.

"The luxury of the American ladies is unheard of (issen) Nothing is more common than to see an American lady traveling with baggage varying from twenty to fifty packages. Three or four ladies are enough to load a sing. It any other porf of the world there is not a princess, not a queen who travels with such a train (attered.) While the French and English ladies have city toilets more simple and more modest when they are out walking, the American ladies would blush at that simplicity of good taste; they like to sweep the sidewalks with sumpinous silk dresses, with dresses of swire, domas brocks, or velvet, costing more than a thousand frames, and which are only worn here in a parlot or in a carriage. than a thousand frames, and which are only worn here in a parlot or in a carriage.

"One can judge by that of the luxury of dirs. Cecilia R—on's toilet. In New York she gars the reputation of being the most fashion, ble lady of the United States, and of spending he most money for her toilet. Rarely does she wear a dress three times. The luxury of Mrs Jecilia R—on is such that an American poet the has remained anonymous, but is helieved to Cecilia R—on is such that an American poet, who has remained anonymous, but is believed to be Mr. Butler, of New York, has written a poem about her, under the title of 'Nothing to Wear; An Episode of Fashionable Life."

BEMACH OF PROMISE CASE AMONG THE ARISTOC-

BREAGH OF PROMISE CASE AMONG THE ARISTOC-RACY.

On Dit (says the Court Journal) that a remarkable trial for breach of promise of marriage will shortly be heard at Westminster Hall, wherein it is rumored that most unusual and extraordinary testimony will be produced, which will not a little astonish the fashionable and clerical world. The gentleman, who complains of the lady filting him, (after she had appointed the wedding day, and received the congratulations of her friends on the approaching nupitals,) is the claimant to ancient baroncties, now in abeyance; and the lady is closely allied to several dignitaries, high in the church, and the granddaughter of a deceased English hishop; her only sister married to the brother of a noble lord, and the grandson of two English Dukes. It is said the damages are laid at £30,000, and that the admirers of leving epistics will have a rich treat at the extraordinary warmth of the lady's letter to her once dearly beloved and idolized intended. rth Times has a most piquant paragraph.
